Lynn E. Taylor

President & CEO

Lynn stakes his company and his reputation around his “right person, right job” mission. He is creator of the Core Values Index (CVI), the only assessment to identify the unchanging human characteristics that dictate future job performance and align these with the responsibilities of a given role for guaranteed success.

His training sessions deliver candid conversations that lead to significant team connectivity, transparency, trust, communication and ROI for organizations that partner with him.

More than 2000 leaders have benefited from Lynn’s coaching and training. In his role as titular CEO of numerous companies he positioned more than 8000 individuals into their seat of highest and best contribution, increasing bottom-line performance beyond expectations. Lynn Taylor is a leading speaker for Vistage, the world’s largest CEO membership organization. His CVI-based training has been rated “...the best in the history of Vistage.”

His speeches, seminars and workshops are unique and life-changing. Lynn delves into business strategies, tactics, team communication; leading empowerment and trust-building exercises while garnering a mastery of each person’s individual core nature. The combination brings a new level of personal and business success within reach of all participants. “Immediately applicable...” is the common outcome.

Lynn is a business optimization expert in the areas of human capital, C-level performance, executive coaching and organization design. He is creator of the Core Values Index™, the only hiring assessment to accurately predict future job performance by characterizing and quantifying the innate, unchanging human nature of a person and what they are naturally wired to do.

Lynn has performed more than 200 successful turnaround projects over the past 20 years. He and his Core Values Index™ have been installed in thousands of organizations large and small to increase human productivity and leadership performance. Notable clients include Alcoa, CitiBank, Merrill Lynch and JG Wentworth to name a few.

In the early days Taylor worked alongside Dr. Ed Geiger, pioneering the development of the world’s first non-invasive cardiac-output computer. He used similar pattern-matching algorithms to produce the first IBM PC-compatible speech recognition system.

At Taylor Protocols, Lynn uses the same scientific approach to develop Top Performer Profiles™ which accurately pre-select future top performers for any position in any company.
